The platform brings all the NGOs together with other facilitators such as excess food resources, logistics partners, etc. This helps NGOs as well as government and non-government entities to successfully identify, connect, collect and redistribute excess food among those in the hunger hot spots. Anadhanam was developed for a noble cause and the platform also serves as a huge and updated database of hunger hot spots and Below Poverty Line (BPL) zones. This makes it easier for those who look forward to serve the hungry.
