Every ecommerce company strives to drive customer engagement and retention post purchase. This is because of the simple fact that for most B2C companies 70-80% of their revenue comes from existing customers compared to 0-10% percent coming from new customers. However, trying to create a personalized customer experience can be difficult when managing recurring returns or answering questions about shipping times. That's where ClickPost AI-powered automation platform helps our clients. Once the platform is set up, it takes over and manages all incoming messages/emails and intelligently routes them into relevant customer journeys based on past behavior.we have listed best top 10 Best Logistics Software .click here!
