Lack of access to data-driven insights and expertise often leads investors to make unsafe choices in the real estate industry. Our founders noticed this problem plaguing the industry in their span of careers in commercial real estate. Thus Strata was born with the idea to democratize investment opportunities in CRE and unlock value for investors, at scale. The goal is to achieve this with our in-depth real estate expertise and strong data analytics foundation through our fractional investment model. At Strata, we consider our employees to be our greatest asset. Our team comprises talented individuals with diverse skill sets and varied work experience across real estate, technology and finance.
