If removing skin tan on your body isn't complicated enough, removing skin tan on your face is even more difficult. Your body is exposed to the sun for a short amount of time each day, which is why it forms a tan. On the other hand, your face is exposed to the sun for much longer periods of time, which means it forms a darker tan. This makes removing skin tan on your face impossible without using a product that removes your tan, such as a sunless tanner.
