The Authorization delegated to producers/importers the responsibility of properly disposing or recycling post-consumer E-waste in accordance with the Plastic Waste Management Rules, 2016. (Extended Producer Responsibility) is an environmental and economic approach to managing a product's lifecycle. It includes prevention, proper disposal, and systematic recycling. There are primarily three types of authorization, namely

It is important to note that manufacturing authorization is the most difficult to obtain because it requires substantial infrastructure and training investment. For Indian or overseas manufacturers or importers of electronic items for E-waste management, the certification is a legal requirement. For More details Contact us.
