Handloom weavers creating a unique tapestry of motifs and designs over hundreds of years have carved newer milestones in Bengal's pride of producing Indian wearable art. However, driven by various technological advancements in the textile industry today, the rich antiquity of 100% pure handloom is losing its exclusivity with each passing day. In an era of such crisis, where man is pitted against a machine, Karustuti strives to sustain Fairtrade handloom, and the creative potential of handloom artisans fighting their ill-fates, to helping them aspire weaving, living and believing!
