pay3 () is a crypto payment platform that replaces all wallet addresses with one simple link: @username. Unlike complex Web3 solutions, pay3 makes sending crypto as easy as Apple Pay.

With pay3, users never worry about wrong chains or high fees. Send payments by entering an amount, selecting a token (USDT, USDC, ETH, SOL), and clicking pay. pay3 automatically recommends the cheapest network, wallets and transparent gas fees before sending.

pay3 solves crypto's UX problem: payments are too complex. Whether receiving freelance payments, splitting bills, or accepting customer payments, pay3 handles it all through one link. No wallet connections, no address confusion, just your username and payments.

Currently supporting Ethereum, Tron, and Solana networks, pay3 ensures users always have access to the fastest and most affordable payment routes. Built by the team behind Todayq (serving crypto users since 2017), pay3 is headquartered in Gurugram, India and serves users ;
