The Buddha Marble Statue refers to a sculpture of the Buddha, which is made from marble. Marble is a type of metamorphic rock that is prized for its beauty and durability, and has been used for sculptures since ancient times.

The Buddha Marble Statue is a popular art form that has been created by artists and craftsmen for centuries. These statues are usually carved in a variety of poses and gestures, each of which has a different symbolic meaning. Some of the most common poses include the standing Buddha, the reclining Buddha, and the seated Buddha.

The Buddha Marble Statue is typically adorned with intricate carvings and designs, which are meant to represent various aspects of Buddhist philosophy and teachings. These designs may include lotus flowers, which are a symbol of purity and enlightenment, or the wheel of dharma, which represents the teachings of the Buddha.

Buddha Marble Statues are considered to be valuable and meaningful works of art by many people, and are often used as decorative pieces in homes and gardens. They are also used in Buddhist temples and other sacred spaces, where they serve as a reminder of the Buddha's teachings and the path to enlightenment.

Types of Buddha statues

There are many different types of Buddha statues, each with its own unique style and symbolism. Here are some of the most common types of Buddha statues:

- Standing Buddha: This type of Buddha statue features the Buddha standing with his arms at his sides. It symbolizes fearlessness, enlightenment, and the Buddha's triumph over ignorance.
  - Reclining Buddha: This type of Buddha statue depicts the Buddha lying down, with his head resting on his right hand. It represents the Buddha's final moments before passing into Nirvana.
  - Seated Buddha: This type of Buddha statue is the most common and depicts the Buddha sitting in a

Vastu rules for placing White marble Buddha Statue

Here are some simple vastu rules everyone must follow to attract wealth and good health and remove obstacles from our lives.

#1. Placement

The ideal location of the place the Buddha marble idol is in the northeast corner of the house. It is because this corner is considered the most auspicious direction in Vastu. Alternatively, you can also place the marble in the east or west direction.

#2. Size

One must make sure that the size of the Lord Buddha idol is proportional to the room. The statue must not be too big or too small.

#3. Opt for a White Marble statue!

The best material for the Buddha statue is white marble. Marble is considered a pure and auspicious material and brings positive energy into the home. A white marble Buddha statue is also visually stunning and can be a beautiful addition to any home.

#4. The direction of the trunk

The direction in which the trunk of the Buddha statue faces is also essential. According to Vastu principles, the statue attracts positive energy and removes obstacles from home.

#5. Place the idol on wood or marble

When placing the Lord Buddha marble statue, the altar where the idol is placed is just as important as the direction. The altar must be made of wood or marble. You must also ensure that it is properly clean and well-maintained.

#6. Light

The area around the marble statue should be well-lit. Natural light is the best light source, but if this is not possible, then soft and warm lighting can create a calming effect. It creates a peaceful and positive environment in the house.

#7. Colors of the room

The ambiance of the space where the statue is placed is also important. The colors of the room must be in harmony with the statue. Lighter shades are often the best colors to have in the room.

#8. Clean the area around the statue

The area around the Buddha marble statue should be kept clean and clutter-free. A cluttered and untidy environment can affect the positive energy flow in the home. Make sure that the area around the statue is cleaned regularly.

#9. Always place some offerings near the statue

Offerings like flowers, fruits, and sweets can be placed near the Buddha statue. This brings good luck and prosperity into the home.

#10. Always treat the statue with respect

The Buddha marble statue should be treated with respect and devotion. The idol should be placed in a location that is easily accessible for praying. You must not put the statue near the bathroom or kitchen.

Conclusion

Following the above-listed Vastu rules can bring good luck and prosperity to your homes. And if you are looking to purchase a Buddha a idol or even a marble budda statue, connect with the marble statue manufacturer immediately.
