During our corporate jobs, we noticed a tremendous shift in the way people shop and buy. Consumers now make well-informed and conscious decisions. Hence, standing out has become even more difficult for businesses. Hence, from this shift, a company was born – Thrivom.

Thrivom was an idea that originated in the deprived economical state of a pandemic-ridden India. It was founded on the principle of "increach – increasing reach". We understand the challenges well and our extensive marketing experience enables us to solve them efficiently and help you invade the competitive market.

Our founders are Digital Marketers with 15+ years of cumulative corporate experience from across industries, and growing brands is what they do for a living!
