VMSIHE is the first international hospitality institute in Goa that offers the best hospitality education with world class infrastructure, foreign exchange programs, study tours to Europe and internships and placements in India and abroad. The institute works with hotels and hospitality companies to design programs that address current industry-specific challenges. VMSIHE has well qualified and highly experienced faculty, with expertise in different departments within the hospitality industry. The teaching model combines academic learning, practical classes and professional internships centered on the day-to-day operations and services in the hospitality world.
